NB: Clause 1(g) of your licence agreement states that you are to display the licence number allocated for that purpose on such part or parts of the jetty so as to be clearly visible from the shore and the water. It should be displayed so that it is well above winter high-water level and should have figures at least 75 millimetres in height.

Application to transfer a jetty licence, received after the property sale, will be processed in the standard manner but, should approval for transfer not be given for any reason, the repair or removal of the structure may remain the previous owner's responsibility (particularly if located on a public foreshore).

Therefore, before selling or buying a property with a jetty, you should ascertain whether:

- all licence fees in arrears have been paid; and
- the facility is in a good and safe condition.
