You are in a tropical cyclone region

The north west of Australia experiences more severe cyclones than any other part of the Australian coastline and is one of the most cyclone-prone coasts anywhere in the world. The cyclone season extends from November through to April, but most coastal impacts occur in the period from January to March.

Please refer to the Exmouth Tropical Cyclone - Community Information Sheet that the Department of Transport (DoT) distributes during cyclones which is available along with a range of other DoT cyclone plans on the web site at www.transport.wa.gov.au/transport.
Diving flag

Any boat with divers operating from it must always display signals by day or night to alert other boat users. The day/night signal for divers is an International Code Flag "A." The flag must be at least 750mm long and 500mm wide.

Divers operating without a boat, for example from a jetty, must also display the International Code Flag "A." The flag must be at least 750mm long and 500mm wide. Divers not operating from a vessel or jetty can display the flag from a buoy. If displayed from a buoy, the flag must not be less than 300mm long and 200mm wide.

Vessels to keep clear

When approaching a place or another vessel displaying the flag or the appropriate signal:

1. keep your vessel at least 50 metres clear of that place or vessel; and
2. if where it is not possible to keep 50 metres clear of that place or vessel —
   1. proceed at the slowest speed at which his vessel can be safely navigated; and
   2. maintain a proper lookout for people in the water, whilst passing within 50 metres of the place or vessel displaying the flag or the appropriate signal.

Water skiing

Water skiing involves being towed over water at a speed of 8 knots or more by a motor boat supported on the surface by a ski or skis, an aquaplane or other apparatus, or your feet.

It takes at least three people to go water skiing:

1. A driver of at least 17 years of age with a Recreational Skipper’s Ticket (RST).
